MAC Source Communications Names Arthur Herold as Sales Director

Under Herold's Leadership, MAC Source Plans to Expand its Footprint in Metro New York

Syracuse, New York, January 16, 2012 – MAC Source Communications, Inc., a provider of business collaboration solutions, today announced that Arthur Herold has joined the company as the Sales Director for the New York City office. In his new role at MAC Source, Art will oversee the Senior Account Management Team that covers the Metro New York City, Long Island, New Jersey, and Connecticut footprint.

"Art brings extensive sales leadership experience to MAC Source with excellent results spanning almost 20 years in the IT industry. In order to continue our growth strategies and to ensure we continue to maintain the highest levels of customer service, Art was the perfect choice to drive our business forward. Art's successful track record in building effective operational teams, strong partner relationships and sales representatives parallels our long term strategy to strengthen the MAC Source brand, manage channels more effectively, and achieve our revenue growth targets in Metro New York."

- National Vice President of Sales, Tom Donahue

Art Herold joins MAC Source from Carousel Industries where he was the Business Development Director. Prior to that, he was the Founder of A-Rated Consulting which provides business development and operational expertise for companies in the I.T. sector. Art's list of achievements and exceeded goals in sales and sales management throughout his career with industry leaders such as Nortel and NTT prove that he is the ideal candidate to manage MAC Source's new footprint.

"MAC Source has been a distinct market leader with an exceptional reputation in our Industry for many years now. As part of the Executive Team at such an outstanding organization, I am thrilled to help execute on the growth strategy for MAC Source and Meridian Group International."

- Sales Director, Arthur Herold
