MAC Source Communications Recognized by The Business Review Magazine as One of the Best Places to Work for 2010

Release Date: November 15, 2010

MAC Source Communications, a voice and data systems integrator headquartered in Syracuse, New York, was recognized this month by The Business Review Magazine as one of the Best Places to Work in the Capital Region for 2010. MAC Source Communications earned this distinction for the second year in a row by being one of the top-scoring companies on the employee attitude surveys that were received over the past few weeks. This year, over 175 companies participated and MAC Source was one of 30 companies recognized in the Capital Region.

Tim McDermott, President of MAC Source Communications, said “it feels great to receive this recognition two years in a row. Our people make this company what it is and I am proud to be associated with them. Our folks have worked really hard this year and to know that they continue to feel good about what we are doing is very reassuring.”

This achievement will be celebrated at a luncheon hosted by The Business Review on Friday, December 3 at the Crowne Plaza Hotel in Albany.
