Introducing . . . our Project Finance Lease

Your planned equipment acquisitions system will pave the way for your future growth. But the upfront costs can pack a wallop. So much so, they can dig you into a hole . . . that's hard to get out of.

Meridian Leasing has a solution. With our new Project Finance Lease, we tailor your lease to meet the requirements associated with the phased implementation of your project, eliminating the sting of large cash outlays upfront. This innovative leasing option allows you to maximize the returns of your project implementation.

Even more power with m-power

Meridian's m-power lease asset tracking software is the perfect compliment to our Project Finance Lease. Meridian's m-power application provides a tool for tracking the leased assets and maintenance contracts associated with your project. m-power provides a portal for you to make modifications, request changes, manage asset information--and maximize project management.

Other Project Finance Lease advantages

- Meridian Leasing will manage all the administrative details associated with the project, including preparing documentation and making payments to multiple vendors during the phased implementation period.
- All hardware, software, services, maintenance, and other costs can be combined on one lease for ease of management and asset tracking.
- Meridian Leasing is your vendor liaison, ensuring that vendor invoices and products/services descriptions are accurate--and that you only pay what you agreed to.
